

Figure S1. Heat map of correlations between metabolites detected during the early phase of the drying process. Each square represents the pearson's correlation coefficient

Figure S2. Heat map of correlations between metabolites detected during the Mid phase of the drying process. Each square represents the pearson's correlation coefficient

Figure S3. Heat map of correlations between metabolites detected during the early phase of the drying process. Each square represents the pearson's correlation coefficient